Resident Talent Night

Every September, the Resident Wellness Office puts on a Talent Night. Resident Talent Night started off as an informal gathering among internal medicine residents in 2007, has grown year-after-year, and now boasts a diverse set of performers from across many residency programs. This year, nine programs — including family medicine, geriatrics, neurology, palliative, emergency, anesthesiology, otolaryngology, psychiatry, and pediatrics — were represented in the performance lineup.

In addition to the wide range of performances, event-goers had an opportunity to take in a stunning art exhibit, featuring photography, painting and drawing submissions from residents.
