Thank you for your compassion and commitment to our hospitals, clinics, and communities!

Because of the important work residents do, it’s crucial that residents remember to take time to care for themselves. Residents play an important role in delivering health care and teaching, and demonstrate immense dedication to their patients. They also serve as role models to medical students and other trainees. Residents are invaluable and we appreciate the incredible work that you do!